

We are delighted and pleased to announce that we have chosen Classic Remodeling & Construction, Inc. to complete the construction of the Briggs De Laine Pearson Education Center. The firm, which is located in Johns Island, South Carolina, was founded in 1989 by Bob Fleming. Bob finished Clemson University in 1979 with a degree in building science.

Over the years, under Bob's guidance, the firm has grown from 3 individuals to over three dozen team members. That corresponds with the equally spectacular growth of the business.

The company has been honored by its peers on numerous occasions at the local, regional as well as national level. Today, Classic Remodeling & Construction is considered Charleston's premier design-build home remodeling company.

For more information about this wonderful company, please click the link below:

<https://www.classicremodeling.com/>